

Sales Account Manager UK (location London Area)

Are you someone who wants to score in retail? Do you like to sell a wonderful product that can be 100% supported? Are you an active networker and are you keen on achieving good results? Then we are the one we are looking for the position of Sales Account Manager at Retail Communications UK!

At Retail Communications, we specialize in designing and producing in-store communication. Our designers will create a concept that is in harmony with your brand. With offices in both the Netherlands and Poland, our project managers source the right partners wherever necessary for the best in-store communication. We promise to create the wow factor that lets your brand score!

Requirements:

- Strong communicator with excellent organisational skills.
- 2+ years marketing experience in a B2B environment.
- Previous experience of working in a direct to business would be advantageous.
- Experience of personalisation would be beneficial.
- Project management experience.
- Strong Excel skills required along with Outlook and Word.
- Ability to work well under pressure Please email applications to: info@retailcommunications.eu.

Or visit our website: www.retailcommunications.eu